Materialities in Anthropology and Archaeology

New Series from the University of Wales Press

Series Editors: Luci Attala and Louise Steel, University of Wales Trinity Saint David

This series offers a timely investigation into the material world and the place of people within it. While traditional theories of materiality have focused on how objects shape the lives of people, this series (situated in the New Materialities) demonstrates how the world is comprised of assemblages of interacting materials, and thus the constitutive and agential role of matter in the formation of material worlds.

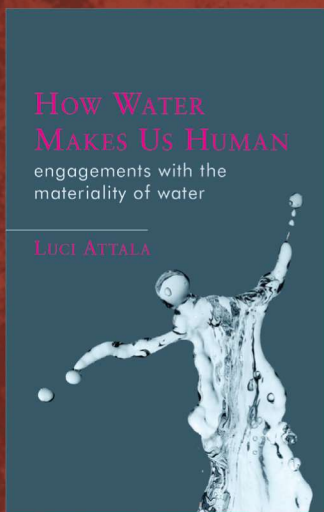

BODY MATTERS
EXPLORING THE MATERIALITY OF THE HUMAN BODY

Edited by Louise Steel and Luci Attala

May 2019
9781786834157 • £39.99 • PB

Adopting a novel cross-disciplinary approach, this book demonstrates the value of understanding human bodies as fundamentally influenced and affected by the other materials available in diverse landscapes. Using a rich mix of ethnographic, archaeological and historical examples, it explores the creative roles materials have taken in shaping past and present people's bodies.

HOW WATER MAKES US HUMAN
ENGAGEMENTS WITH THE MATERIALITY OF WATER

Luci Attala

April 2019
9781786834119 • £39.99 • PB

This book provides a novel cross-disciplinary approach to water, demonstrating the role it plays in shaping human lives, using anthropological information about water in Kenya, Wales and Spain to show how the action of water influences how people can be with it.
